

York Oct: 26th 1822.

Dear Sir -

Upon deliberate consideration

I find that the plan of admitting Gentlemen who are not Students at Law, into our Society would be attended with bad consequences.

Your opinion on the subject may be good, but I must say candidly, that I differ from you - The more I consider the matter the greater difficulty I perceive -

I return you the Men^d. which you handed me yesterday, and will be able to explain myself more fully, if necessary, when we meet. Love in haste

Yours very truly
Chas. Richardson

W. B. Baldwin.
